Shooting Tips from A SWAT Team Leader

One Officer's Solution for Diminishing Skeet Scores in the Field and Reduced Visual Acuity in the Air

By Mark Doneburgh – Syracuse, NY

Driving home from another disappointing skeet shoot finish, I was searching for answers. My vision was deteriorating.

The next day, I reported for my Second Class Medical (a requirement for my job as a flight instructor). And just as I suspected, my flight certificate required corrective lenses.

"Great," I thought. "What if my eyes keep getting worse?"

Then I began seeing ads for ClaroXan in some of my gun magazines. At first, I wrote it off as just another gimmick. But after some time had passed, I decided it couldn't hurt to give ClaroXan a try.

The results were staggering. After a few short weeks I knew I had made the right decision. My vision felt crisp and clear. Before I knew it, I was thinking about leaving those reading glasses in the case. I haven't worn them since!

As I stayed consistent with ClaroXan, my shooting swiftly improved and my vision was keen in several key areas:

- Quickly picking up the rim of the target when it leaves the skeet house
- Enhanced motion detection
- Experiencing colors

My shooting scores shot back up and all the worries I had about my professional career were out the window. And much to the chagrin of my hunting buddies, I spotted two deer that the rest of them didn't see!

ClaroXan is an easy-to-digest, once-daily tablet packed with a complete formula of antioxidants and carotenoids to aid tissues in the macula, retina, and lens of the eye and promote better eyesight.

If your eyesight isn't what it used to be, I'd urge you to order ClaroXan today. ClaroXan has been endorsed by thousands of shooters and pilots for years. Call 855-820-4040 or go to ClaroXan.com for more information and to place your order.

Best Regards,
